THACKERAYANA: NOTES AND ANECDOTES.

Illustrated by a profusion of Sketches by WILLIAM MAKEPEACE THACKERAY, depicting Humorous Incidents in his School-life, and Favourite Characters in the books of his every-day reading, with Five Coloured Plates and Hundreds of Wood Engravings from Thackeray's Original Drawings.

An exceedingly curious and valuable volume, the diverting pages of which are adorned by some six hundred engraved facsimiles of the little caricature sketches which the illustrious author of 'Vanity Fair' was perpetually scribbling in the margins of books, and on every scrap of paper which came in his way, and which these eyes have witnessed him scribbling scores of times."

ESSAYS AND STUDIES. By ALGERNON SWINBURNE.

"When a book contains so much that is new, stimulating, and attractive, when it is for mere riches in the matter of style, a thing unique in English—it is pleasant to turn from the minor details in manner to the real excellence of acute and weighty thought. Mr. Swinburne's Essays must increase his reputation for unusual knowledge, for eloquence, for catholic sympathy, and they will reconcile many readers whom some of his poems offend."—Pall Mall Gazette.

CYCLOPAEDIA OF COSTUME;

Or, a Dictionary of Dress—Regal, Ecclesiastical, Civil, and Military—from the Earliest Period in England to the Reign of George the Third. Including Notices of Contemporaneous Fashions on the Continent, and preceded by a General History of the Costumes of the Principal Countries of Europe. By J. R. PLANCHE, Somerset Herald. To be completed in 24 parts, 4to, at 6s. each, profusely illustrated by coloured and plain Plates and Wood Engravings.—A Prospectus will be sent upon application. Parts I. to VII. now ready.

"There is no subject connected with dress with which 'Somerset Herald' is not as familiar as ordinary men are with the ordinary themes of everyday life. The gathered knowledge of many years is placed before the world in this his latest work, and when finished, there will exist no work on the subject half so valuable. The numerous illustrations are all effective—for their accuracy the author is responsible; they are well drawn and well engraved, and, while indispensable to a proper comprehension of the text, are satisfactory as works of art."—Art Journal.

CACAOINE. (REGISTERED.)

Cacaoine is a preparation of Cacao without sugar or any admixture whatever.

Cacaoine is very acceptable as a light refreshing drink for use in the later hours of the day. With Homoeopaths it takes the place of Tea, having very little consistence—not more than that of Coffee.

Cacaoine, to those who have been in the habit of using Cacao Nibs, has proved a great boon, as it does away with all the trouble attending the preparation of Nibs—Cacaoine itself being nothing more than very choice Nibs that have been submitted to a very ingenious patented process, by which the principal part of the oil has been removed. This scientific removal of the oil renders the beverage preparable from Cacaoine incomparably more delicate and attractive than any that the crude Nibs afford, besides that Cacaoine requires but to be boiled for a few minutes to be ready for the table.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE.—Pour half-a-pint of boiling water on a piled tea-spoonful of the Cacaoine, and then boil ten minutes or so in a Cacaotiere—a vessel which needs no superintendence, as the contained liquid cannot boil over.

Prepared only in Packets and Tins, labelled

JAMES EPPS & CO.,

HOMOEOPATHIC CHEMISTS,

48 Threepenny Lane, and 170 Piccadilly.

* Cacaotieres—for 1 pint, 1s.; 1 pint, 1s. 3d.; 2 pints, 1s. 6d.

HURST & BLACKETT'S NEW WORKS.

13 Great Marlborough Street.

RECOLLECTIONS of COLONEL DE GONNEVILLE. Edited from the French by CHARLOTTE M. YONGE. Author of the "Heir of Redclyffe," &c. 2 vols. crown 8vo, 21s.

"The personal career of M. de Gonneville presents a number of points of interest, for he was an officer of no ordinary merit. The most valuable part of these memoirs, however, consists in the light they throw on the great age of military wonders and revolution which passed before M. de Gonneville's eyes. The work contains some interesting details on more than one campaign of the Grand Army, which have not, we believe, been disclosed before; and it adds to our knowledge respecting the struggle in Poland and Prussia in 1807, and several passages of the Peninsular War. It brings us, also, within the presence of Napoleon I. and some of the chiefs who upheld the fortunes of the First Empire; and its anecdotes about that extraordinary man are evidently genuine and very characteristic. The work discloses a variety of details of interest connected with Napoleon's escape from Elba, the Hundred Days, the Bourbon Restoration, and the Revolution of July, 1830. On the whole, readers who care to know what an honourable soldier heard and said of the most wonderful time in modern history will find in these pages much to delight them. We have dwelt at length on this instructive record of the experiences of a memorable age, and can commend it cordially to our readers."—The Times.

OUR BISHOPS and DEANS. By the Rev. F. ARNOLD, B.A., late of Christchurch, Oxford. 2 vols. demy 8vo, 30s.

"This work is good in conception, and cleverly executed; and as thoroughly honest and earnest as it is interesting and able. The style is original, the thought vigorous, the information wide and thorough, the portrait-painting artistic. There is not a chapter that any intelligent reader is likely to leave unfinished or to find uninteresting."

John Bull.

"We think it will be admitted that Mr. Arnold has achieved his task with a large amount of success. He presents a general view of what the Church has been doing during the last forty years; but the bulk of the work is taken up with sketches of the leaders with whose names contemporary Church history is associated. He displays considerable power of seizing the salient points of a striking character, and presenting them in a clear and forcible style."—Globe.

COSITAS ESPANOLAS; or, Every-Day LIFE in SPAIN. By Mrs. HARVEY, of Ickwell Bury. 1 vol. 8vo, 16s.

"A charming book; fresh, lively, and amusing. It may confidently be recommended to all readers who want to know something about the inner life of Spain."—Morning Post.
"In this amusing book Mrs. Harvey sketches a series of cabinet pictures, each a gem in its way, giving her readers vivid glimpses into Spanish life as it is."—Globe.
"Pleasantly and prettily written."—Pall Mall Gazette.

RAMBLES in ISTRIA, DALMATIA, and MONTENEGRO. By R. H. R. 1 vol. demy 8vo, 14s.

"A handsome and trustworthy volume, pleasantly written."
"A pleasant and very entertaining book."—Examiner.
"The author describes his wanderings brightly and pleasantly, and his account will probably induce many to visit one of the most picturesque and interesting corners of Europe."—Standard.

WORDS of HOPE and COMFORT to those in SORROW. Dedicated by permission to the QUEEN. THIRD EDITION. 1 vol. 5s. bound.

NEW AND POPULAR NOVELS.

FAY ARLINGTON. By Anne Beale, Author of "Simplicity and Fascination," "Gladys the Reaper," &c. 3 vols.

The HISTORY of a HEART. By Lady BLAKE, Author of "Helen's First Love," &c. 3 vols.

"The History of a Heart" is certainly much above the average run of novels. The story is natural and very interesting. The personages are life-like."—Star and ard.

TIT for TAT. By Mrs. M. E. Smith. 3 vols.

"This book is worthy of attention. The story has a design, and the characters are real men and women. The studies of Mrs. Dunstable and her daughter Pauline are admirable."—Pall Mall Gazette.
"A powerfully written and exciting novel."—Scotsman.
"A novel of remarkable power. The plot is deeply interesting, the sentiment healthy, and the characters are vividly portrayed."—Court Journal.

A WIFE'S STORY; and other Tales. By the Author of "CASTLE," &c. With Preface containing Letters from the late Mr. CHARLES DICKENS. 3 vols.

"These tales are well worth something more than an ephemeral favour. 'A Wife's Story' drew from Charles Dickens a very interesting and characteristic letter. The tale is worthy of the admiration which he expressed."—Spectator.

EGLANTINE. By the Author of "St. Olave's." 3 vols.

"There is a great charm in the story of 'Eglantine,' and we very heartily recommend it."—British Quarterly Review.

NEW WORK ON PORTUGAL.
Just published, 1 vol. demy 8vo, 10s. 6d.
TRAVELS IN PORTUGAL.

By JOHN LATOUCHE.

With Illustrations by the Right Hon. T. SOTHERON ESTCOURT.

"Mr. Latouche's Travels are delightfully written. . . . An unusually observant and kindly traveller, he picks up odds and ends of character, and an ample repertoire of good stories, which he mixes judiciously with the serious and extensive information his work conveys respecting Portugal past and present, its government, politics, natural features, commerce, and national characteristics. . . . The chapters which Mr. Latouche devotes to the fauna and flora of Portugal are charming, and full of the humour which is, though never obtrusive or paraded as the expense of good feeling, always present throughout the book. . . . His book is as fair as it is pleasant, as full of information as it is sparkling with humour, and we think that the majority of his readers will acknowledge that its perusal has taught them not only a great deal that they had not hitherto known about Portugal, but much more than they would have been induced to learn through any less entertaining medium."—Spectator.

"Mr. Latouche's narrative is full of interest and instruction."—Nature.
"Mr. Latouche is a keen and close observer. His book is not pretentious, but informative and amusing."—Scotsman.
"The Travels are full of incident, narrated in an easy, unaffected manner."—Bookseller.

"We can speak well of this book, because it is written in good English, and because it gives the cream of all the author could gather, with very little intrusion of self. Mr. Latouche is a kind of traveller of which we wish there were many more in this country."—Tablet.
"Mr. Latouche has produced a work equally novel in its information, and interesting in its social descriptions."—Nonconformist.

AMERICAN ORGANS in every variety of CRAMER'S Manufacture and on CRAMER'S
Three Years System.

Prices from 15 Guineas, or £1 11s. 6d. a Quarter.

CRAMER and Co. by no means wish it to be understood, as in some quarters it would seem to have been, that their AMERICAN ORGANS are used by Messrs. Moody and Sankey at their interesting meetings.

CRAMER'S instruments are much more solid in manufacture, and infinitely superior in quality of tone, and are certainly not open to the objection made by perhaps the most influential literary and musical journal to the imported organs:—

"Judged from the artistic point of view, the instrument is no more agreeable to the ear than is the stentorian power displayed by the singer."

Moreover, while CRAMER'S AMERICAN ORGANS are more satisfactorily made, and better finished in all respects, they are sold at prices varying from 15 to 25 per cent. below those of all imported instruments.

These, and all other instruments of CRAMER'S manufacture, can be had on the three years system, which, originated by CRAMER'S, has been partially adopted by other firms, but is carried out on a thoroughly large and liberal scale only by themselves.

"Very charming and instructive sketches of Nineveh, Babylon, India, Persopolis, and Palmyra. . . . "A book of travels that will yield in literary charm to none written in our time, while putting us in possession of valuable information respecting those vast mountains which form so grand a portion of the natural frontiers of this Empire. . . . His graphic word-painting makes you feel the very spirit of the mountains."—Times of India.

"Evidently written by an accomplished traveller, a good literary workman, and a shrewd observer of men and things. The story of his ride, with all its dangers, sufferings, and enjoyments amidst the loftiest and most rugged mountains in the world, could hardly have been more gracefully or masterfully told."—Allen's Indian Mail.

"Under this title a bold traveller and powerful writer has for several months been giving us scenes, adventures, and disquisitions in connection with Thibet and Himalayas and the Valley of the Sutlej, marked by much novelty of subject as well as power of treatment. A great deal of the ground he traverses may be said to have been untrodden by Europeans. Almost none of it was ever before trodden by an observer at once so enterprising and acute."—Scotsman.

EIGHTEENTH THOUSAND.

A SHORT HISTORY
OF THE ENGLISH PEOPLE.

By JOHN RICHARD GREEN, M.A.

With Coloured Maps, Genealogical Tables, and Chronological Annals.

Crown 8vo, 8s. 6d.

Dean Stanley says—"The excellent 'Short History of the People of England,' by my former pupil, Mr. Green.

Mr. Grant Duff, M.P., in an address to his constituents, calls it "a most admirable book, and one which would,
he had no doubt, revolutionise the teaching of English history in our schools."

"It is difficult to speak of this book in any other terms than those of unqualified praise. Its learning, its style, its imagination, and its sound common sense, are most remarkable....Nothing can ever take away its calmness of judgment, its elevation of tone, or its beauty of style."
North American Review.

"It is simply the ideal history which we have been looking for since ever we knew what history was—the simple, straightforward, rapid narrative, clear and strong and uninterrupted as a vigorous river, carrying you on with it in an interest too genuine and real to leave you any time to think of style—yet with a style which is perfectly adapted to the purpose, neither florid nor rigid, neither ornamental nor austere, but far better than either, unconscious, like the voice of a man who has so much to say that he entirely forgets how he is saying it—a grand condition of natural eloquence."—Blackwood's Magazine.

"We know of no record of the whole drama of English history to be compared with it. We know of none that is so distinctly a work of genius....Mr. Green's volume is a really wonderful production. There is a freshness and originality breathing from one end to the other, a charm of style, and a power, both narrative and descriptive, which lifts it altogether out of the class of books to which at first sight it might seem to belong. The range, too, of subject, and the capacity which the writer shows of dealing with so many different sides of English history, witness to powers of no common order. And with all this Mr. Green shows throughout that he is on all points up to the last lights, that he has made himself thoroughly master both of original authorities and of their modern interpreters....The Early History is admirably done; the clear and full narrative which Mr. Green is able to put together of the earliest days of the English People is a wonderful contrast to the confused and pre-scientific talk so common in most of the books which it is to be hoped that Mr. Green's volume will displace."—Pall Mall Gazette.

"To say that Mr. Green's is better than those which have preceded it would be to convey a very inadequate idea of its merits. It stands alone as the one general history of the country, for the sake of which all others, if young and old are wise, will be speedily and surely set aside."—Academy.

"This is a single volume, of the modest dimensions and unpretending appearance of a school-book; but the wealth of material, of learning, thought, and fancy which the author has lavished upon it, might easily have supplied a stately library work of some eight or ten volumes. The most indolent reader can hardly take it up without finding that he has lighted upon a book which is never commonplace and never dull."—Saturday Review.

SECOND EDITION, with NEW PREFACE.

The UNSEEN UNIVERSE;
or, PHYSICAL SPECULATIONS
ON A FUTURE STATE.

8vo, 10s. 6d.

[This day.]

"This book is one which well deserves the attention of thoughtful and religious readers.....It is a perfectly sober enquiry, on scientific grounds, into the possibilities of a future existence.....Nature has been questioned at all points, and has returned many answers, some of which are clear, distinct, and undeniable, while others are still dim, misty, and uncertain. All these must be taken into account in framing any theory of the universe. The peculiarity of the present work is, that the authors are quite capable of doing this, and that they have, in point of fact, done it. They have no prejudices against any of the conclusions of modern science; they do, as a matter of fact, accept almost all those conclusions; and they do not feel themselves thereby precluded from accepting also, not merely a vague sentiment of Christianity, but the dogmatic theology of the Christian Church. That, in the present state of public opinion, is in itself a most important fact."—Guardian, June 23.

"This book is worthy of the Author of that very clever

Edgeworth's pictures of Irish life.....We sincerely hope that 'Castle Daly' will find many readers both in Ireland book calculated to remove many old prejudices which have grown into articles of faith on both sides of the Channel, but which are none the less pestilent heresies."—Standard.
